BUTTLING IS SCORED.

Grand Jury Says He Furnishes Prisoners with Wretched Food.

Accommodations Filthy and Treatment Declared to Be Inhuman.

Strong Presentment Against Capt. Hendrickson, of Flatlands.

The Kings County Grand Jury for the month of May went into the Court of Sessions, in Brooklyn, this morning and filed four presentments in addition to a large number of indictments. The presentments strongly condemn Police Capt. Hendrickson, of Flatlands, who was arrested for alleged oppression, in arresting political opponents on election day.

They also censure the Sheriff for the gross inhumanities practiced upon the prisoners locked up in the jail. The presentment in the Hendrickson matter was as follows:

"In the case of the people against Hendrickson, the Grand Jury, having heard the evidence, discharges the complaint of oppression against the defendant, but severely censures both Capt. Hendrickson and Justice Wilson, it appearing to the Grand Jury by the evidence submitted that they have been using their offices to exploit their personal animosities, and have not hesitated to juggle with the liberty of the citizen who may be within their jurisdiction, to obtain their ends.

"We most earnestly and unequivocally condemn such methods by public servants."

The Grand Jury visited Raymond Street Jail May 14. From its investigation it says that the management of that institution should be taken in hand by the proper authorities and remedied. Many of the prisoners are innocent persons locked up to await examination on charges. The Grand Jury believes that the prisoners were treated inhumanely. While the Sheriff received a sufficient allowance from the county for the support of each prisoner, the prisoners were wretchedly fed.

"An impression prevails generally in the community," says the Grand Jury, "that the profits of the county, which have been made the subject of political barter and traffic, which it seems to the Grand Jury is a blot upon our civilization and humanity calls for the application of a radical remedy."

The fees and emoluments of the office of Sheriff are large enough to amply pay for the time and abilities of any man such as has up to the present time occupied that office, without the additional income derived from the almost inhuman treatment to which the prisoners are subjected, if their present condition may be taken as evidence.

The Grand Jury was present at noon

when the prisoners ate dinner. The meal consisted of "so-called bean soup," so thin as not to contain sufficient nourishment. In addition, says the Grand Jury, "they received a decoction called 'coffee'."

Grand Jury secured a dry sample of the product used, and the dealer who supplied it was fined ten cents for selling it. The Grand Jury also found that the prisoners were not allowed to eat meat that was so putrid that they had to refuse to eat it. When they complained, they got more of the above described "coffee" and bread, which, they said, was good.

Food served to the inmates of the penitentiary is fresh and good, and the prisoners get plenty of it. The Grand Jury says it costs nine cents per day for each prisoner. The Sheriff receives 25 cents per day. The Grand Jury recommends that the matter of feeding the prisoners be placed in charge of the Charities Commission.

It also declares that the female prisoners are huddled into the van with men while riding to and from the jail. In one instance there were nineteen prisoners in one boat, and six of them were women and girls.

"The treatment of cattle in a cattle car is more considerate," says the Grand Jury.

In the other presentments the Grand Jury commends Police Commissioner Welles and his associates on the Excise Board, Messrs. Forrester and Hacker, for the improvement in the administration of the police, and the condition of the other county buildings, including the penitentiary, hospital, insane asylum and almshouse is excellent, and the management is commended. The hospital, it says, should be enlarged, however, and more beds supplied.

Mutilated Currency Redemption.

The average daily redemption of mutilated currency at the New York Sub-Treasury has increased from 100,000 per day in the first month, which is regarded as an indication of the dullness of trade at interior points.

Tired of Complaining

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 11, 1894.—I have used three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and am on the fourth one. I have suffered from nervous headache and dyspepsia for a year or more, and became tired of complaining and trying every kind of medicine. At last I was determined to give Hood's Sarsaparilla a thorough trial, and I am fully convinced of its merits. I cheerfully recommend it to all sufferers in any way afflicted with headache or dyspepsia, and I know it thoroughly tried it will effect a cure.

Mrs. FRANK MORROW, 410 Hooper Street.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 12, 1894.—Hood's Sarsaparilla has purified my blood, strengthened my appetite and has helped me in many other ways. Our whole family is using it at present. It is the best family medicine I have ever used.

SEVEN ACCIDENTS IN A WEEK.

Two More Collisions Between Trolley Cars in Williamsburg.

During the week ending this morning there have been seven trolley accidents in Williamsburg. Two of them occurred last night.

Car 73 of the East New York line and car 2342 of the Tompkins Avenue line, collided at the corner of Broadway and Reeling street shortly after 9 P. M. William Brown of 39 Westfield street, had his knee injured and was taken home. The cars were only slightly damaged.

An almost similar accident occurred an hour later, when a Franklin Avenue trolley car and a Flushing Avenue trolley car collided at the corner of Flushing and Franklin avenues. Thomas Cavanagh, motorman of the Flushing Avenue car, had his arm severely cut, and was taken to St. Catherine's Hospital. The damage to the cars is about $150.

FARES CUT ON LONG ISLAND.

New Railroad Schedule Goes Into Effect To-Day.

Austin Corbin's recent order reducing passenger fares on the Long Island Railroad went into effect to-day.

The new schedule reduces the excursion rate between all stations on the entire system to 2 1/2 cents a mile. Ten-penny excursion tickets will hereafter be sold for two cents a mile.

Mileage tickets can now be used by any member of the family of the purchaser. The fare over the Thirty-fourth street ferry is reduced from 3 cents to 2 1/2 cents when tickets are purchased.

The cut in the rates on the road is the result of the agreement made by Mr. Corbin for the withdrawal of a bill from the Legislature to reduce the rates of fare.

WARNED FROM THE COURT.

Polish Interpreter Accused of Extorting Money.

Peter Schrauter, a Pole, was told by Justice Goetting, of Williamsburg, this morning that if he ever visited the Lee Avenue Court again he would be sent to jail.

Annie Steank, a defendant in an assault case, told the magistrate that Schrauter had demanded $2 to act as interpreter in her case. Schrauter is a saloon-keeper and has been hanging around the court for several months.

One of the officers connected with the court says he saw Schrauter taking jewelry from a prisoner who had been fined, under the pretense that he could secure the man's release.

EDDIE NICHOLS MAY LIVE.

The Child Expected to Recover from His Exposure in the Woods.

NORTHPORT, L. I., June 1.—There was a slight improvement this morning in the condition of little Eddie Nichols, the three-year-old son of Farmer Nichols, of Comox, who was found in the woods almost lifeless yesterday, after being exposed to the severe weather for three days. Dr. Rosen, who is attending the child, thinks he will recover.

Mrs. Nichols, the mother of the child, is suffering from nervous prostration, and is also under the care of the physician.

HUNDRED YEARS OLD TO-DAY.

But Sands Street Church Has to Postpone Its Celebration.

Necessary Records and Documents Were Destroyed by Fire.

Although to-day was the time set for the centennial celebration of the old Sands Street Methodist Church in Brooklyn, the trustees decided to postpone the event until Fall.

The postponement of the celebration is caused by the discovery that all the records and documents of the church were destroyed by fire.

A committee was appointed to-day to arrange, if possible, a programme which would include the history contained in the missing records.

The church rounded out the one hundred years of its existence to-day. It is ten years older than St. Ann's Episcopal Church, which originally stood in the same neighborhood.

The church for years stood on Sands street, but is now located at Clark and Henry streets.

The first pastor of the church was Rev. Joseph Tilton, who preached the dedicatory sermon on June 1, 1794.

DOLAN DROPPED THE HAM.

Surprised by Pedestrians, the Burglar Was Caught.

Five pistol shots, fired in rapid succession, alarmed Policeman Edward Goldrick, of the Butler street station, Brooklyn, a few minutes after midnight this morning.

He started to learn where the shots came from, when he saw a man running, hatless and coatless, along Sackett street.

He followed the fugitive and overtook him at Sackett and Columbia streets.

The prisoner said he was Thomas Dolan, a laborer, twenty-four years old, of 29 Thirtieth street. The policeman took him to the station-house, and then started to ascertain the cause of the shots.

He discovered that some thief had gone through an unfinished building on Henry street, near Sackett, and forced an entrance through the rear window of Joseph Eckhardt's meat market, at 211 Sackett street.

The thief had stolen a ham, which he had dropped into the yard, together with his hat and coat, when his presence in the shop was discovered by several pedestrians who were passing.

One of those who discovered the robber fired his revolver into the air to attract the attention of the police.

It is the Butler Street Police Court this morning Dolan was held for examination.

Brooklyn Briefs.

Joseph Lamb, of 4 Berkeley place, told the police to-day that some thief had broken into his house last night and stolen jewelry and other property valued at $50.

Thieves entered the Union Club, 130 Taylor street, during the night, and stole a set of billiard balls worth $25.

Anton Thompson, who lives on Hamilton avenue, told overboard this morning at the foot of Harrison street, near the Elks' Club house, 123 Schermerhorn street, got into a fight early this morning. During the row, it is alleged, Strait struck him in the face with a beer glass. Strait was arrested.

READY TO FIGHT FIRE.

West End Volunteer Department Deny that They Ever Refused.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., June 1.—The members of West End Engine Company No. 2, who recently vacated their quarters on account of their differences with the Board of Commissioners, still maintain the position taken by them in the first instance. They deny the report, however, that they refused to go to fires because the hose carriage taken from them by the Commissioners and given to the Oliver Dowd Fire Company was not returned. When the carriage was taken they obtained another from Mr. Hildreth, a two-wheel cart with 450 feet of hose, and stood ready to fight any fire that might break out. In any event they considered the other carriage unsafe. It is a volunteer department.

They also deny a story that the West End Company rented its horses for $350 per day to work on gambler Phil Daly's Elkhart Track.

Snow and Frost in Jersey.

TRENTON, N. J., June 1.—Reports received here show that remarkable unseasonable weather has prevailed in different parts of the State in the past twenty-four hours. There was quite a heavy frost this morning, and in South Jersey much damage has been done to fruit trees.

Wire News in Brief.

The bodies of Patrick J. Doyle and Thomas J.weeney, of Natick, Mass., were found on the railroad track near that place yesterday. It is believed that they were struck by a train.

The last car of a wrecking train was derailed at Shinn Heights, Pa., yesterday, near the scene of Wednesday's wreck, and twenty-nine men were slightly injured.

A four-story building, occupied by the Manger Printing Company and the Columbia Clothing Company, at Thirtieth and Beaman streets, Omaha, was damaged by fire last night.

The Ohio Valley Paper Mill was burned at Miamishaw, O., yesterday. Loss, $50,000. The hotel at Frank Heyner's saw mill, near Adelphi, O., exploded yesterday, instantly killing Engineer Joseph Shewler, Theodore Sawyer and Serman Walle.

Fire yesterday destroyed the greater portion of the business part of Mayfield, Mo. Loss $25,000. Two men were instantly killed and seven injured Tuesday afternoon by a collision on the Union Pacific at Washburn, Utah.

Thieves in Coney's Observatory.

CONY ISLAND, N. Y., June 1.—The keeper of the big observatory at this place last night complained to the police that several rolls of tape paper had been stolen. Detectives Clougher and Harris found the stolen property early this morning in Bonnie McCreary's stable, on First street, Sheepshead Bay. They expect to make several arrests.
